Farmingville, NY - On April 25, Councilwoman Jane Bonner held a Tax Grievance Seminar at the Rose Caracappa Senior Center in Mount Sinai. The meeting was well attended, with approximately fifty residents from the various communities across northern Brookhaven in attendance. Also participating in this informational meeting was Brookhaven Town Tax Assessor James Ryan.

On April 28, Councilwoman Bonner attended a Tax Grievance Seminar with Assemblymen Dan Losquadro and Dean Murray along with Tax Assessor James Ryan. The seminar was held at the Middle Island Fire Department.

"These days nearly everyone is working hard to cut costs, so it's important that residents know that they can grieve their taxes," said Councilwoman Bonner. "Seminars like these are a good way for people to learn the right way to do it and get results that are beneficial to their bottom line."
